

We, the KB Impuls Service corporation,

- a global acting company and a leading international satellite communication organisation, telecommunication service provider and systems integrator, are searching for a software engineer m/f for our location in Penig/Saxony at the earliest opportunity.

software engineer m/f

Your duties:

- programming (C+, C++, Linux)
- preparation of protocol implementation, simulation and test schedules
- software development and implementation
- testing of features and rote
- documentation of the deliverables
- direction of different projects
- contact person for our customers locally

Your premises:

- studies or assimilable apprenticeship in the category of computer science or communication technology
- expert knowledge in the category programming and ideally optoelectronics
- good knowledge in internet traffic, protocol and software layer
- experience in visual studio 2003 or higher GUI programming
- knowledge of the common protocol of application: http / snmp / pop / imap
- advantageously are experiences in instant messaging, ISO/OSI, Linux or Adobe Flash
- partially willingness to travel
- project experience
- flexibility, authority, the ability to communicate and capacity for teamwork

You can convince with your reliable commerce with customers and therefore you feature perfect command of English.

Interested?

We are looking forward to your significant application documents including information about your desired salary and your earliest possible starting date. You can contact Mrs. Giese if you have any questions.

KB Impuls Service GmbH
Muldenalstraße 15
To the attention of Mrs. Giese
09322 Penig / OT Amerika
Germany
Fhone +4937381-211057
Fax +4937381-211055
f.giese@kbimpuls.com
www.kbimpuls.com